

MISSIONAL

- National Capital Presbytery equips it's congregations to be Missional, going out into the world.
- The individual dots of the NCP logo are replaced by arrows pointing outward.
- The circle created by the negative space, with the green color, evokes the globe.
- Christ, represented by the cross, remains at the center of the missional work.

PASTORAL

- National Capital Presbytery cares for it's congregations, teaching and ruling elders, and educators.
- The arms of the cross are tightened to evoke hands joining together.
- The silhouette of the cross resembles a first aid cross - a universal sign of care.
- The rust color of the circle evokes compassion and warmth.

PROPHETIC

- National Capital Presbytery connects its congregations to call out the status quo according to the gospel.
- The yellow arcs represent the sound of the prophetic voice sharing the gospel and speaking truth to power.
- The yellow color offers hope of God's kingdom coming on earth.
