The offices of National Capital Presbytery will be closed August 5 – August 9. We are always mindful of the effect that operating budget spending has on per capita. Each year we utilize the Office Fund to subsidize per capita. There is a common misunderstanding that the Office Fund only covers rent for NCP offices; however, it is used to pay for a variety of expenses related to our operating expenses. Without that fund, per capital rates would be significantly higher.

As we continue to consider creative ways to respond to rising per capita costs, NCP has again elected to close the presbytery offices for two weeks during the year, allowing staff to have paid leave without using their allotted time off. This was done in lieu of the full COM COLA recommendation (4.4% was the recommendation and NCP staff received a 2.2% COLA). The first of these sabbath weeks is August 5-9 and the second will be December 23-27.
