[The women] remembered [Jesus'] words, and returning from the tomb they told all this to the eleven and to all the rest. ... But these words seemed to them an idle tale, and they did not believe them. – Luke 24:8-9,11

Dear Friends,

The women who had prepared spices to anoint Jesus' body went early in the morning to the tomb, and they found it empty. Heavenly messengers reminded them of Jesus' promise—that he would be arrested and executed and rise on the third day. And yet when they shared this astounding, wonderful news with the men, they were at first dismissed and disbelieved. Like the Pharisees who accompanied Jesus on Palm Sunday, who nervously tried to shush the exultant crowd, the eleven and all the rest may have followed Jesus, but they doubted his power—the power he exhibited not by opposing violence and injustice on their own terms, but by placing himself in their hands, and dying with a prayer for forgiveness of their human agents. The male disciples were sure that strength and ruthlessness prevails, and that those whom worldly power cuts down stay down. It wasn't until Peter saw the empty tomb for himself that his sad resignation began to fall away.

No one was there at the moment when life returned to Jesus' broken body. No one witnessed him take his first breath again or rise from the place where Joseph of Arimathea had laid him. In Luke's Easter story, no one sees the stone roll away from its place. No one glimpses the risen Jesus first stepping out into the recreated world that his undone death has made. Like the mustard seed sprouting underground and becoming a tree, like the hidden yeast leavening the dough, the new creation, the realm of God, takes shape quietly and invisibly. It leaves us, like Peter, to grapple with its undeniable effects—the tomb is empty, and the risen Teacher awaits us elsewhere.

The hardest thing for me sometimes is to trust the good news that love wins, that Jesus' way of grace and humble trust leads to victory. The brash and proud voices shouting at us today would have us believe otherwise—that the triumph of Jesus and those who follow his way is an idle tale, fake news. The kind of power wielded by Caesar and Pilate seems everywhere ascendant.

Nevertheless, the tomb is empty. Jesus is not there. He has been raised. We know this because we are witnesses to resurrection—when dividing walls among us fall away, when strangers find a welcome, when wrongs are forgiven and healed, when simple gifts are multiplied far beyond hope or imagination, Christ appears alive and risen. We believe and we hope, because we have seen what the resurrection of Jesus has done.

The Book of Order calls the church—in its individual congregations and as a whole—to be and to become “a community of faith, hope, love, and witness” (G-3.0201, G-3.0301, G-3.0401, G-3.0501). May our shared witness to Jesus' resurrection power and the ringing, defiant Alleluias of Easter melt our doubts. Christ is risen, Alleluia!

Grace and Peace,

Rev. David A. Baer, Stated Clerk

GROUPS FORMING NOW FOR THE FALL OF 2025

Missional Incubator: National Capital Presbytery

Interested? Contact Brian Clark, Director, to set up an initial conversation.

bclark@thepresbytery.org

Missional: Loving people. Engaging community on their terms and their turf.*

Incubator: Space to dream. Growing dreams into reality.*

Unless it is the LORD who builds the house, the builders' work is pointless. (Psalm 127:1)

OVERVIEW

Mixed-economy expressions of church have been with us since the beginning of Church. Throughout scripture are the stories of how God used shepherds, vinedressers, farmers, accountants, financial planners, tent makers, owners in the textile industry, fishers, and many others to lead and gather God's people.

The National Capital Presbytery seeks a more proactive, intentional approach to establishing new worshipping communities and new expressions of existing churches that will engage people currently unconnected to church. The decline in church membership, the increasing pace of church closures, and the growing disconnect between current ministries and a postmodern culture demand a different strategy. This strategy will need to incorporate a mixed economy ministry that can provide income streams to the mission while increasing opportunities to engage with those who would not be attracted to a more traditional church. If your church is ripe for this kind of strategy and with the capacity to take this bold step, now is the time to apply to the Fall or 2025

MISSIONAL INCUBATOR

The Incubator's goal is to empower your church to develop contextually informed, thoughtfully integrated, mission-hearted new expressions of the one Church. The Incubator will empower your leadership to develop a robust plan for a compelling business or social enterprise of your church that will engage the community and create collisions with people not associated with your church. The Incubator will give key leaders of your church nine to twelve months and resources to:

- Develop mission plans, including business plans that identify funding and investors.
- Draw on outside experts partnered with the Missional Incubator.
- Create a steady source of contacts and introductions in your community.
- Develop funding sources for a new expression of church paired with a compelling business.

WHAT WOULD BE REQUIRED OF YOUR CHURCH:

- Identify a lead person with the drive to develop a plan and the capacity to bring that plan into reality. The lead person is usually the pastor or associate pastor who is positioned to implement, or oversee the implantation of, the plan developed.
- The lead person will spend one day a week (10 AM - 3 PM) with 3-5 others in a cohort of the Missional Incubator. The location of these gatherings will rotate among Ridgetop Coffee and Tea, your church, and the churches of the others in the Incubator.

WHAT WOULD BE REQUIRED OF YOUR CHURCH (continued):

- The lead person will gather a team of 2-3 people connected with your Church who will meet monthly with the lead as dreamers, conversation partners, discerners, and explorers of this new mission. The team will also:
 - Engage in a regular posture of listening and learning as a missional practice in your local context:
 - Be open to community conversations.
 - Try a few experiments as a process of honing the most viable compelling business plan.
 - Engage in spiritual practices that will support the missional practices.

HOW THE MISSIONAL INCUBATOR WILL SUPPORT YOU IN THIS PROCESS:

- Equipping in the practices and skill sets needed to explore potential business opportunities, including community listening, networking, and market research.
- Coaching and mentorship in developing a business and mission plan.
- Connection to thought leaders and experts to build skills, strategies, and capacities for this work.
- An innovative environment of peers to generate ideas and feedback loops to support one another in the work.
- Dedicated energy and attention to developing a thorough plan, to include a business plan, mission plan, financial plan, and staffing plan.
- A “Cloud” of experts who would be available for consultation, to include builders, architects, accountants, lawyers, county experts, and more.
- Availability to meet with your team, your session, or your congregation at any time that will help bring along the stakeholders in this process.
- A spiritually vibrant environment to support prayerful discernment.
- A commitment to walk alongside your congregation to bring this plan into reality once the plan has been developed.

RESULTS: AT THE END OF NINE MONTHS YOU MIGHT DISCERN AS A CHURCH THAT:

- Now is the time for this new mission and you begin to implement the plan.
- Now is not the time for this mission:
 - The Incubator time revealed the road map for a business that will take 1-2 years to put the pieces together.
 - The Incubator revealed this is not the right mission for our church.

A vision of a man from Macedonia came to Paul during the night. He stood urging Paul, “Come over to Macedonia and help us!” Immediately after he saw the vision, we prepared to leave for the province of Macedonia, concluding that God had called us to proclaim the good news to them. Acts 16:9-10 (CEB)

Ultimately the Missional Incubator is designed to help your church discover who is God urging you to engage and how can you meet them on their terms and on their turf.

so that our churches can grow

“Postcards from the Edge”
Building Resilience and Hope in Ukraine

“The word ‘U-kraine’ literally means ‘belonging to the edge.’

“We are doing something few are doing in the field of aid in a nation at war. Giving away stuff is the least of what we do.

“We have designed a resilient community to give people a different life experience of this war than others displaced by it.

That is the heart of what we do.”

-Robert Gamble

Rev. Dr. Robert Gamble is the Executive Director of This Child Here, Inc. in Ukraine – a validated ministry of Western Carolina Presbytery. After years of work with children at risk there, now all focus is on families displaced by the war.

A former Coast Guard Officer, Robert is a graduate of Columbia and Princeton Theological Seminaries. A PCUSA pastor, he served as the installed pastor of churches in FL, TN, and NM before moving to Ukraine in 2006.

Robert is the father of three, a surfer, and a photographer. He is married to Olha (Oli) Balaban from Ukraine, Program Manager for This Child Here.

Are you passionate about caring for creation and building a stronger community? Join our next Sacred Grounds multi-faith cohort and be a part of something transformative by putting your faith into action.

National Wildlife Federation's Sacred Grounds program provides an opportunity to care for creation through gardening with native plants. Planting native plants helps people and wildlife. They provide food for birds, butterflies, and native bees which in turn pollinate our own food. Additionally, they slow the flow of polluted stormwater, keeping our waterways clean and safe, especially important in an era of climate change. With Sacred Grounds we work with your congregation to both help create a native plant pollinator garden on your grounds and engage your members about planting native plants at home.

What your congregation will get:

- Inspirational educational programs and materials
- Caring for Creation community building program for congregation
- Free native plants for members to plant at home
- Free congregation native plant garden on congregation grounds

Our Keynote Speaker

Reverend Dr. Nancy
Meehan Yao

Rev. Dr. Nancy Meehan Yao serves as Associate General Presbyter with and for Shenandoah Presbytery, located in central Virginia and parts of West Virginia. A graduate of Columbia Theological Seminary (M.Div.) and Colgate Rochester Crozer Divinity School (D. Min.), she has served as co-pastor (with her husband, Rev. Jim Yao), and as temporary supply and interim pastor to churches in the Finger Lakes region of New York State. A former Early Childhood Educator and Head Start teacher, Nancy is fascinated with the ways faith formation, educational practices and change theory intersect, all to build communities of transformative faith and resilience. She is the author of Scripture and Adaptive Change, a Bible study for use in congregations. It is available anywhere books are sold.

Her husband Jim serves as pastor to Moorefield Presbyterian Church, in Moorefield, WV, where they live. They have two adult sons, and like to travel in their vacation time.

Eastern Region of the Association of Partners in Christian Education

Tuesday Afternoon Workshops:
1:00 PM - 2:15 PM

Workshop #1: Enneagram Conflict Styles in Times of Change

led by Reverend Martha Spong, an ordained United Church of Christ pastor, ICF Professional Certified Coach (PCC), and an iEQ9 Accredited Enneagram Practitioner; she coaches clergy as well as church and denominational leaders in her private practice and with NEXT Church.

Using the Enneagram of Personality, we will explore the ways individuals may respond to the conflicts and challenges that are part of change. The nine core types described by the Enneagram react differently to feeling things are beyond their control. Each have something to offer within a faith community; when we understand and can draw on all three conflict styles, we become more adaptive and resilient. The workshop will include a brief introduction to the nine types, then a deeper dive into conflict styles, and an opportunity for self-evaluation.

Workshop #2: LIFT Experience led by Liz Perraud who has served GenOn Ministries as a Regional Church Advisor (2004-2013) and since 2013 as Executive Director. She also brings over 35 years of volunteer experience leading in Christian education in the local church.

Participants will explore and experience an approach to bringing generations together around the table as a new way of doing Bible study for Sunday school or any time with people of all ages. Designed for two or more generations, but not necessarily all! LIFT (Living In Faith Together) is a flexible model created by GenOn Ministries with four components (breaking bread, studying God's Word, playing, and praying) connected by a common theme. In our time together, there will be a brief overview of intergenerational ministry and then we'll experience one LIFT session.

Workshop #3: Transformation Leadership and Teaching: Setting the Table for Transformation

Kat is the Director of Children's Ministry at Woods Church in Severna Park, MD. She has served in all areas of formation and with churches from 2 to 4000 members.

Colleagues will learn about trauma informed leadership and teaching to help keep people engaged and available while in the learning zone. Discuss how to adapt or develop current programs for today's church members and leaders using the TEACH method. Kat is certified to teach Trauma Informed Teaching and Leadership through Breathe4Change. Spiritual practices, mindfulness practices, and social emotional learning are all part of engaging the post-covid congregation. Bring a curriculum or idea you have wanted to "re-imagine" or re-launch. Groups will learn protocols and best practices for holding trauma informed space.

Tuesday Evening Workshops:
6:45-8:00 PM

Workshop #4: Ministry with People with Dementia

led by Dorothy Linthicum who was drawn to the spiritual and theological dimensions of dementia when both her parents had Alzheimer's Disease. Her book, Redeeming Dementia: Spirituality, Theology, Science (Church Publishing), written with co-author Janice Hicks, was published in November 2018. Earlier this year, she was presented an award for Lifelong Christian Formation Leadership by Forma, a group of formation leaders in the Episcopal Church. Together we will explore the topic of dementia, emphasizing the importance of the self, which is never destroyed despite the severity of a disease or its symptoms. By talking about dementia, we can ease fears, provide a better theological understanding, while embracing our vulnerability. Brené Brown, researcher and speaker, recently wrote, "Vulnerability is the birthplace of love, belonging, joy, courage, and creativity. It is the source of hope, empathy, accountability, and authenticity."

Workshop #5: The Color of Compromise in Racial Equity Ministry

led by Cathay Snyder, Christian Education Director at Mechanicsburg Presbyterian Church, Mechanicsburg, PA

How should Christians understand our relationship to racism in an everchanging American society? First, we must do so through the lens of a history that has either been ignored, misunderstood, or never learned. Historian Jemar Tisby's The Color of Compromise: The Truth about the American Church's Complicity in Racism is an accessible and thoughtful guide through American history and the Church's response to slavery and racial issues stemming from it. A good starting point for discussion. Workshop participants will be given an overview of Tisby's work and explore the various ways in which to utilize it within their faith community and racial equity ministry.

Workshop #6: Opening Doors to Discipleship led by Priscilla Andre-Colton, a retired Certified Christian Educator from Alexandria, VA. She has served churches in Florida, North Carolina, Pennsylvania and Virginia. She was also one of the writers for Follow Me curriculum and Opening Doors content.

Opening Doors to Discipleship began as an ecumenical partnership between five Reformed denominations that developed a training and learning website for church leaders. In 2019, the Association of Partners in Christian Education took on updating and redesigning it. This workshop will be time spent exploring all that Opening Doors to Discipleship has to offer. Bring your laptop.

"Do not be conformed to this world,[a] but be transformed by the renewal of your mind, that by testing you may discern what is the will of God, what is good and acceptable and perfect."

Romans 12:2

My Brothers in Christ, I pray that this message finds you in good health and spirit. I am Elder Reggie Fortune, the Conference Leader for the 2025 Mid-Atlantic Presbyterian Men's Conference. The conference is scheduled for July 18 - 20, 2025. Our theme this year is, "Doing God's Will - The Transfiguration (based on Romans 12:2)."

I am excited by the program planned for this year and looking forward to our fellowship, learning, and worship experience. Please register early at the Mid-Atlantic Presbyterian Men's website (www.midatlpresmen.org) and bring a friend. In accordance with our theme, we have expanded our outreach effort this year to all of the Presbyteries in the Synod. As a result, we are anticipating a significant increase in participation. So, you don't want to miss this year's event! May God continue to bless and keep you!

Yours in Christ,

“Be Still My Soul”

A Sabbath Retreat with Carol Bechtel: teacher, author, and musician.

June 23-28, 2025 Ghost
Ranch, New Mexico

Sabbath's Invitation to Rest, Renewal, and Wonder

Come away for a while and treat yourself to a week-long Sabbath in the spectacular setting of Ghost Ranch. Join other Sabbath-seekers for a gentle week of rest, reflection, and worship filled with ideas for how you can incorporate rhythms of Sabbath rest into your everyday life.

Why Sabbath, Why Now?

“Humans have created such a loud, fast tempo of perfection and production that we often forget--if we ever knew it at all--the rhythms designed for our well-being.”

April Fiet, The Sacred Pulse

Sabbath is a gift designed by God to give us rest and renewal in the midst of a frantic world. God knows we need it! Yet Christians have largely lost touch with this important part of our spiritual heritage. We can discover again its potential for re-forming our walk with God, with others, and with all creation.

A Gentle Retreat

During our time together we'll explore what it means to celebrate Sabbath. Through music, meditation, Bible study, and song we will “seek Sabbath” together, leaving ample time for rest and recreation. We will also have time for Baking challah (Sabbath bread); Sabbath-related crafts; Hiking; Swimming; Horse-back riding; Evening prayer; and Sunsets. Some of the questions we will explore include:

- Is Sabbath more than self-care? If so, how/why?
- Is Sabbath selfish, or does it renew us to live and serve?
- How can busy people realistically celebrate Sabbath?... Practical suggestions?
- Why is Sabbath about more like a party with people we love than a list of obligations?
- What are the real-life consequences of rejecting the gift of Sabbath? For us? For others? For the world?

Be Still My Soul will be led by Carol M. Bechtel, a gifted musician, author, and teacher. She has taught at Western Theological Seminary for many years, and she is the author of "Sabbath: Accepting God's Gift of Rest and Delight," the 2022-2023 national Horizons Bible Study.
