

You're Invited: Queerly Gathered Good Friday Worship Service

Dear beloved community,

As we enter the sacred journey toward Easter, Queerly Gathered warmly invites you to join us for our Good Friday Worship Service, a space where LGBTQ+ people and allies can gather in reflection, remembrance, and sacred solidarity.

 17 Good Friday – April 3rd

 7:30 PM

 Clarendon Presbyterian Church

(Everyone in the presbytery is warmly invited — allies welcome!)

Good Friday invites us to sit with the profound story of grief, injustice, love, and sacrifice at the heart of the Christian faith. Together, we'll hold space for lament, reflection, prayer, and community as we remember the crucifixion of Jesus and the ways this story still speaks into our lives today. In a queer-affirming space, we will honor both the sorrow and the deep hope that emerges even in the darkest moments.

Whether this day feels heavy, sacred, or quietly hopeful, we pray this worship service offers a place where you can be fully yourself and held in community.

We would be honored to share this meaningful moment with you.

With care and solidarity,
Queerly Gathered
